Each owner shall be entitled to one vote for each lot which he owns.

2. During the Development Period, defined as the period of time during which the Developer owns any lots in the Subdivision, the Developer, or any person or entity to whom the Developer has assigned his Developer Rights, shall have the sole right to prosecute any proceedings at law or in equity against the person or persons violating or attempting to violate any of the covenants herein either to prevent him, her or them from so doing or to recover damages or other dues for such violation.

Once the Developer has conveyed all of the lots in the subdivision or has otherwise terminated the Development Period, if the parties hereto or any of them, or their heirs, successors or assigns, shall violate or attempt to violate any of the covenants herein, it shall be lawful for any other person or persons owning any real estate situated in said development or subdivision to prosecute any proceedings at law or in equity against the person or persons either to prevent him, her or them from so doing or to recover damages or other dues for such violation.

The Developer and his successors and assigns shall be entitled to collect from those deemed in violation all reasonable legal expense including attorney fees and all costs of collection incurred in the enforcement of said covenants.
